Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 (a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed 04/19/2001 (Paper No. 14) has been entered. Claims 15-34 are pending and being examined. Any objection and/or rejection of record that is not maintained and/or repeated in this Office action is withdrawn. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. Claims 15-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a polypeptide comprising the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 2, does not reasonably provide enablement for "TACI"; while being enabling for a polypeptide comprising the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 4, does not reasonably provide enablement for "TACI-L".

Claims 15-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a polypeptide comprising the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 2 or 4, does not reasonably provide enablement for a polypeptide encoded by a nucleic acid molecule 75% identical to SEQ ID NO: 1 or SEQ ID NO: 3 because % identity at the nucleotide level translates into a much lower % identity at the amino acid level and the instant specification the instant specification does not identify those amino acid residues in the amino acid sequence of a TACI or a TACI-L which are essential for their biological activity and structural integrity and those residues which are either expendable or substitutable.

Art Unit: 1647

The rejection of record is applied to claims 29-34 for reasons of record because the specification, while being enabling for a polypeptide comprising the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 2 or SEQ ID NO: 4, does not reasonably provide enablement for "TACI" or "TACI-L".

It is acknowledged that the claims recite SEQ ID NO: 2 or SEQ ID NO: 4, or some variant thereof, but the claims fail to link SEQ ID NO: 2 or SEQ ID NO: 4, or some variant thereof, with "TACI" or "TACI-L".

Applicants argue that page 6, lines 4-13, and page 7, lines 10-19, define homologous analogs, and the final paragraph of page 5 and the first paragraph of page 7 give examples of essential amino acid residues. Applicants' arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Page 6, lines 4-13, and page 7, lines 10-19 disclose "substantially homologous analogs and allelic variations". The final paragraph of page 5 and the first paragraph of page 7 teach "fragments". A teaching of "substantially homologous analogs and allelic variations" and "fragments" does not identify those amino acid residues in the amino acid sequence of a TACI or a TACI-L which are essential for their biological activity and structural integrity and those residues which are either expendable or substitutable.

3. Claim(s) 15-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, because they recite the terms "TACI" and "TACI-L".

The rejection of record is applied to claims 29-34.

Art Unit: 1647

Applicants argue that the specification has been amended to more clearly define the terms. Applicants' arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims.

5 4. Claims 15, 19, 20, 23, 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chaudhary (6, cited by Applicants) in view of Bringman (a11).

The rejection of record is applied to claims 29-34.

10 Claims 15, 19, 20, 23, 25, 29-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chaudhary (6, cited by Applicants) in view of Bringman (a11) and further in view of Bram (13, cited by Applicants).

Applicants argue that TACI could not be interpreted to include BJAB cells. Applicants' arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. There is nothing in the instant specification that would distinguish the claimed method from the method taught by the cited references.

15 It is further noted that Bram (13, cited by Applicants) teaches the amino acid sequence of a human transmembrane lymphocyte receptor (TACI) (Figure 2) that is normally present in all B-cells (paragraph bridging pages 3-4). The amino acid sequence of TACI is 100% identical to Applicants' SEQ ID NO: 2. It is further noted that BJAB is a human B cell line. BJAB cells comprise a polypeptide that comprises an amino acid sequence selected from the group consisting of the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 2, the amino acid sequence of a fragment of SEQ ID NO: 2 wherein said fragment binds TACI-L, the amino acid sequence of a polypeptide encoded by a nucleic acid molecule that is at least 75% identical to SEQ ID NO: 1, and the amino acid 5 sequence of amino acids 1-166 of SEQ ID NO: 2, absent evidence to the contrary.

It is further noted that there are no structural limitations to the "fragments". A single amino acid is a "fragment". Receptor-ligand interactions involve the binding of the ligand to the receptor via contact of amino acids in the ligand with amino acids in the receptor.

New formal matters, objections, and/or rejections:

Specification

10 5. The amendment filed 03/19/2001 (Paper No. 14) is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: The paragraph at page 5, line 28; the paragraph 15 at page 5, line 31; the paragraph at page 6, line 27. Particular attention should be directed to specific portions of the referenced document where the subject matter being incorporated may be found. See MPEP 608.01(p). The application as filed does not direct particular attention to specific portions of the referenced document where the subject matter being incorporated may be found.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 5 6. The following claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 15, 29, 30 are indefinite over the recitation of "protein comprises ... fragments" because it is unclear if the protein comprises continuous or discontinuous "fragments". The metes and bounds of the claim(s) are not clearly set forth. It is suggested that the claims recite "a 10 fragment".

Claims 33, 34 recite the limitation "the fragment of the polypeptide". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. There is sufficient antecedent basis for the limitation "the fragments of the polypeptide".

Conclusion

Art Unit: 1647

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE 5 MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37
CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, 10 however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
